

PLANS FOR UPKEEP OF WOOLMAN HOME

Memorial Association Hopes to Make Quaker's Home Mecca for Visitors

IMPROVEMENTS ARE MADE

It is the belief of those who attended the third annual meeting of the John Woolman Memorial Association at Mt. Holly, N. J., Saturday afternoon, that the old Woolman house at that place will become as much of a mecca for visitors as are the homes of two other great Quakers, William Penn and George Fox, at Jordans and Swarthmore in England.

The meeting was held on the porch of the old house which looks on a lawn, shadowed by low trees, and the quiet orderliness of an old-fashioned garden. The old-world charm of the place was in perfect accord with the spirit of the people who met to keep alive the memory of this old Quaker gentleman who lived 200 years ago.

Mrs. Amelia M. Gummere, of Haverford, Pa., presided over the meeting, which was devoted to the discussion of plans for the upkeep and improvement of the memorial home.

Sweep Well to Be Built
During the coming year an old-fashioned sweep well, a gift from one of Woolman's descendants, will be built on the grounds. A sweep well is one of those old affairs with a long rod across the top, by the lowering and raising of which bucketsful of water are drawn. That the installation of electric light may not seriously jar the members decided on old-fashioned fixtures and lantern effects. In the same way the water pipes and heating registers are so skillfully placed that they do not attract attention. These are just a few examples of the care and taste with which the association has gone about the restoration of one of the most interesting old houses in this part of the country.

The election of officers for the coming year resulted in the choice of Mrs. Gummere to succeed herself as president and of the following trustees: R. T. Cadbury, of Haverford; Mrs. Anna L. Woolman Jones, a descendant of John Woolman; Charles F. Jenkins, Isaac Sharpless, Miss Alice D'Olier, H. W. Cooper, Edward E. Jones and Mrs. Charles H. Eyle. R. T. Cadbury also succeeds himself as secretary and treasurer of the association.

House Restored in 1912
The Woolman house, which was bought and restored in 1912, is every year becoming better known as the memorial place of America's greatest Quaker leader. Though the name of Penn is so inseparably linked with this part of the country, he was nevertheless an Englishman and spent only a comparatively few years of his life in the new world.

But Woolman, the humble colporteur, spent almost all of his life in going about the country preaching and working against slavery and all forms of oppression. He was a pioneer in other ways as well. Professor Robinson, of Haverford College, refers to him as "the single tax pioneer." The quiet influence of his "Journal," one of the purest pieces of writing in the language, which is placed among the great books of the world, cannot be estimated.

BOY KILLED BY TRUCK; SIX MORE INJURED

Day's Accident Roll Includes Girl Who Loses Leg Under Trolley

One boy was killed, a girl's leg was cut off and five other persons were injured, more or less seriously, within the last twenty-four hours in motor and trolley car accidents.

Abraham Talman, nine years old, of 320 New street, died in Roosevelt hospital last night of injuries received earlier in the day when he was struck and run over by a motortruck on Lawrence street below Vine.

The boy, the police report says, was walking between two wagons, and stepped directly in the path of the motortruck, driven by John Z. Young, of Fifty-ninth and Race streets. Young took the dying boy to the hospital and then surrendered to the police.

Fred Walber, motorman of the west-bound Arch street car which struck Tillie Bemosek, twenty-one years old, of 1725 North Marshall street, at Twelfth and Arch streets yesterday, was held under $5000 bail for a further hearing today by Magistrate Groves in the Eleventh and Winter streets station.

Miss Bemosek had alighted from an eastbound car and was crossing Arch street when the other car, running west, struck her. It was necessary to amputate her left leg at the Hahnemann Hospital.

Thomas Anderson, 2228 North Radnor street, and Edith Mysick, 2203 North Radnor street, were injured through being struck by an automobile truck at Twentieth and Oxford streets yesterday. They were treated at St. Joseph's Hospital. Howard Bloom, of Darby, driver of the truck, was arrested.

Propeller Fan
Sturtevant Propeller Fans are the most efficient and economical means of air circulation. Ideal for factories, stores, and small offices.

FOR positive ventilation on a small scale nothing is more effective than a Sturtevant Propeller Fan.

The ease with which it can be erected and its simplicity of operation make it very desirable for small theatres, public buildings, restaurants, club rooms, factories, dye houses, laundries, and similar places.

There's a Sturtevant air specialist who will tell you all about this inexpensive method of ventilation.

UNITARIANS PLAN CHANGE IN FORMS

Uniformity in Church Worship to Be Discussed in General Conference

MR. TAFT TO PRESIDE

By the Associated Press
Baltimore, Oct. 14—Greater uniformity in form of worship in the churches of the Unitarian denomination and greater degree of cooperation among the churches in the practical work of reconstruction are expected to be the chief topics of discussion at the twenty-eighth meeting of the general conference of the Unitarian and other Christian churches which began here today. Ministers from all parts of the United States and Canada are in attendance. The latter also is well represented. The organization of a Unitarian laymen's league will be undertaken. It will take the place of the National Federation of Men's Clubs, now dissolved, and will be national in its scope. The church worship plans were presented by Professor Henry Wilber Foote, of the Harvard Divinity School. They were drawn by Professor Foote, the Rev. Paul Revere Frothingham, D. D., of Boston, and the Rev. L. W. Mason, D. D., of Pittsburgh, and their discussion was expected to occupy the greater part of today's meeting. The action of the ministers will be presented to the whole conference on Thursday morning. The first address today was on "Private Devotions," by the Rev. William L. Sullivan, D. D., of New York. Former President William Howard Taft is president of the general conference and is expected to assume his duties tomorrow.

WAR-TORN FACES REPAIRED
St. Louis, Oct. 14.—(By A. P.)—Facial reconstruction has been so successful that there is not an American soldier wounded in the war with a reputation for a report made to the convention of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States here today.

Four of the largest tire companies use the L. B. Automatic index—

There is no secret about the reason. They use the L. B. Automatic index because it is quick, accurate and understandable. They use it because it is the best system of filing and un-filing ever devised. They wouldn't have it around for ten minutes if it wasn't.

Any filing system that stands-up and delivers for four of the largest tire companies in the world just has to be good. Few businesses have grown so rapidly. Few have such a tremendous mass of detail.

The L. B. Automatic index has cheerfully carried the load and come through without a puncture.

It is quick as a flash and as accurate as mathematics. It checks and double checks itself against errors. It removes every excuse for making mistakes. And yet it is simple!

Come in and put it to the test yourself. The L. B. Automatic index is as adaptable to the needs of the man in the small office as to the business that covers acres.
